

The Mission of Me:

The truth about our own
agendas and the struggle
to deny self

Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me – Luke 9:23

The Mission of Me:

The truth about our own
agendas and the struggle
to deny self

Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me – Luke 9:23

The Mission of Me:

The truth about our own
agendas and the struggle
to deny self

Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me – Luke 9:23

The Mission of Me:

The truth about our own
agendas and the struggle
to deny self

Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me – Luke 9:23

Focus on the motive: Put a in the space below for every time you do or say something from an impure motive. This exercise shows us how often our motives aren't in check.

Focus on the motive: Put a in the space below for every time you do or say something from an impure motive. This exercise shows us how often our motives aren't in check.

Do things anonymously: Refuse to take credit for good things you do. Write down something you did anonymously this week and ask God to help you discover if your true motive was to bless someone else and please him.

Do things anonymously: Refuse to take credit for good things you do. Write down something you did anonymously this week and ask God to help you discover if your true motive was to bless someone else and please him.

Have a talk with God:

Discuss with God why you praise him. Attempt to explain to him in your own words your motivation for praising Him. If you're insincere you'll find it difficult to admit that, so approach him from an attitude of repentance, asking him to change your heart.

Have a talk with God:

Discuss with God why you praise him. Attempt to explain to him in your own words your motivation for praising Him. If you're insincere you'll find it difficult to admit that, so approach him from an attitude of repentance, asking him to change your heart.

Focus on the motive: Put a in the space below for every time you do or say something from an impure motive. This exercise shows us how often our motives aren't in check.

Focus on the motive: Put a in the space below for every time you do or say something from an impure motive. This exercise shows us how often our motives aren't in check.

Do things anonymously: Refuse to take credit for good things you do. Write down something you did anonymously this week and ask God to help you discover if your true motive was to bless someone else and please him.

Do things anonymously: Refuse to take credit for good things you do. Write down something you did anonymously this week and ask God to help you discover if your true motive was to bless someone else and please him.

Have a talk with God:

Discuss with God why you praise him. Attempt to explain to him in your own words your motivation for praising Him. If you're insincere you'll find it difficult to admit that, so approach him from an attitude of repentance, asking him to change your heart.

Have a talk with God:

Discuss with God why you praise him. Attempt to explain to him in your own words your motivation for praising Him. If you're insincere you'll find it difficult to admit that, so approach him from an attitude of repentance, asking him to change your heart.